It is certainly hard to believe that in celebrating the beginning of our 2022 programme of events that we find ourselves in a much more positive and stable position to present live events after spending another year faced with pandemic regulations and guidelines; especially since we were in lockdown this time last year! Therefore, we are delighted to present a fortnight of exciting events including family fun days, community and language events. We will have an Irish language crash course, excellent family and youth events and some fantastic opportunities for learning and reflection through two discussions on the Long Kesh prison struggle based on three acclaimed and recently released autobiographies from the period; a public showing of fantastic film
